Continue reading the full list of 48 power provisions containing explanations for each of them. Review: 48 What are the law of power? You don't like this or not, Green says Green, you are part of the game of endless power. You try to use force or a pawn with someone stronger than you. Choose your role. So what are the 48 power regulations and how do you use them? These rules are for those who prefer to be players than a pawn. To transform you from an amateur into a professional player, Greene has encoded 48 power on the basis of historical examples of people who improved or failed with clear or bloody results (or both) in implementing power. A few basic rules you learn: use your enemies, keep others dependent on you, speak as little as possible, give yourself the right to what other people do, check all options, do not take the pages, do not build sect and not. Dirty your hands. You can apply or ignore these rules, but you can't avoid them. 48 Power/Law 48 What is the law of power? Here are the whole and explanations of 48 regulations: 1. Law: Never exceed the master: Let people feel better above. Do everything you can to make your bosses look better and smarter than anyone else. Everyone is uncertain, but the uncertain boss can take revenge on a stronger than others. Principle 2: Never trust your friends, learn to use your enemies: consider friends: they are jealous and weaken you. If you choose an enemy, he will be more loyal than a friend, because he will try to prove that he is worthy of your trust. Law 3: Hide your intentions: Always hide your true intentions. Create a fog veil. If you keep people unstable and uncertain, they can't stop your efforts. Rule 4: Always speak less than necessary: talk to less and be uncertain, leave sense to others to interpret. The less you speak, the more terrifying and powerful you are. Law 5: Many things depend on the reputation - protect it at the expense of your life: correct and protect your reputation, because reputation is an integral part of power. In a solid reputation you can influence and frighten others. Law 6: Mysterious weather: be cruel or create a mysterious aura. Any attention - positive or negative - is better than being ignored. Focus brings you wealth. 7. The act of making others work for you, but always take your credit: encourage others to do your work for you. Use your skills, time and energy to advance your ambitions by adding full credit. Praise your efficiency. Law 8: Help other people with you - use bait if you need to: help your opponents come to you. If you allow others to act, you are in control. Bait, then attack. 9 Law: wins according to his actions, never with arguments: not to claim, but to show his opinion. An argument rarely changes some thoughts, but people believe what they see. They will also be less resentful. Law 10: Infection: Avoid the unfortunate and the unfortunate: avoid the unfortunate people. Eternal suffering spreads suffering like an infection and will hurt you. 11 Law: learn to support people depending on you: make you the boss. The more you need it, the more security and freedom you need to achieve your goals. 12 Law: use selective honesty and generosity to disarm your victim: use honesty and generosity to disarm and disarm others of your programs. Even suspicious people respond to kindness, so they are susceptible to processing. 13 Legislation: When applying for assistance, contact the interests of the people, never pleasure or gratitude: when you need help from the state government, look for your interests. They love to help if you get something in return and get what you want without being desperate or obnoxious. 14 Law: present as a friend, work when you know your opponent's secrets, you can predict and control his behavior. Act 15: Completely crush the enemy. Finish the enemy. If you leave one cloak of coal, it will eventually ignite. You cannot afford to be tolerant. 16 Law: Using Absence to Increase Respect and Honor. When you become well known, don't enjoy your recognition. The more you are seen and heard, the more you make your brand cheaper. Law 17: Hold another suspension of terror: develop unpredictability: you know others off balance and release them with random, unpredictable actions. You will be amazed. 18. Law: Do not raise strength to protect yourself The insulation is dangerous: never isolate when you are under pressure. This will distance yourself from the information you need, and when someone is in real dangers, you will know what you are facing, so you will not waste time and do not get in the nest. except me. By staying independent, you will rule yourself - others will compete for your attention. You can also choose permanent sides against each other. You will not suspect you have secret motives. It gives time to strengthen and weaken the winner. At the end of the victory. Otherwise, you will not eliminate limited time and energy. This means that you need to look like a team player and deal with criticism diplomatically. 25 Bounds: Create a again: Create a powerful scene that stands out, not let others define you. Change your appearance and emotions to fit the occasion. People who look bigger than life attract admiration and strength. However, hold your hands clean, looking for others to do dirty work and scapegoats. 27 Law: Play the people they need to believe in creating a cult: give people something to believe and follow something. Promise the world, but don't let it be clear; whip the enthusiasm. People will respond to the desperate need to belong. Supporters are pocketing their pockets and opponents are afraid to go. Better inspires admiration and strength. Take everything into account Development. So you will not be tempted to leave your way. Otherwise, you risk being surprised and forced to respond without having time to think. Loud 30: let your results seem effortlessly: reach a difficult success without effort and you will be towards others and you will seem powerful. On the other hand, if you make too much effort, your success will seem less than impressive and loses respect. Blue 31: Control options: others can play with the cards you distribute: they deceive people, they seem to give them a reasonable choice. However, limits their possibilities to different people who work in your favor, regardless of their choice. Your victims will feel under control, but you are pulling the threads. Law 32: Play People's Fantasies: creates seductive fantasies in contrast with the dark reality of life and people will come to you. Review the right history and wealth and will follow a lot. Law 33: Discover the thumbs of every man: everyone has a weakness, a hole in the armor. Find it and lever effect that you can use to your advantage. Law 34: Be the real in a sense: behave like a king to treat you like this: act as king and people will treat you. Possible dignity and the utmost trust that you are intended for great things and that others will believe in it. Be aware when it's the right time and align with the right side. Be patient and wait for your moment. The bad timing puts an end to his career and his ambitions. Loud 36: DISiding Things that you cannot have: ignoring is the best revenge: sometimes ignore things is better because an exaggerated reaction can worsen small problems, appear badly and attract the attention of the enemy. Symbols alongside the words that show your power. What people see impress more than they feel. "Law 38: think how you want, but behave like the others: do not pretend to be different or people will think that you will despise them and you will sell you. Law 39: Pour the water to capture the fish: always keep calm and target. If you get angry, you have lost control. But if you can enrich your enemies, you will get an advantage. "Law 40: Disable lunch for free: strategically use money and generosity to achieve your goals." Use gifts to build a legend of generosity and show you people. Parents, find or create your own filled space. Suddenly separate yourself from the past and set your own standards - otherwise you will be considered a failure if you are not a clone of your predecessor. pot. He goes before others to yield to their influence. Law 43: Working on the Hearts and Minds of Others: Winning the Hearts and Minds of Others. He plays on their emotions and weaknesses and appeals to their personal interest. You'll be hand feeding them and less likely to turn them on. Law 44: Disarming and Entertaining with the Mirror Effect: Seducing people by reflecting their emotions and interests; Create the illusion that they share common values. They will be so grateful that they will overlook your other reasons. Law 45: Preach the need for change, but never do too much at once: Talk about change, but proceed slowly. It provokes a cherished history and ventilates your changes in family rituals. Too much change is unsettling and leads to regression. Law 46: It never seems too perfect: to prevent or reduce envy, admit a fault or weakness, emphasize the role of luck or minimize your talent. If you do not know and overcome jealousy from nature, it will grow and envy will fight you. Law 47: Do not exceed the signs that you are the world; Know when to stop in victory: When you win, don't let your emotions get in the way of your goal. The moment of victory is dangerous, because when you are moving towards happiness, you fall into something that you did not plan for. Law 48: Embrace the lack of form: Be flexible, changeable and unpredictable, opponents can't decide for you and can't figure out how to react. What are the 48 Laws of Power? Full list of listings
